

Pike

Exploring how the poet creates the two sides of the fish's character

Point	Evidence	Explanation
The poet shows two sides to the pike's character. On the one hand they are: impressive	"perfect"	Using the adjective "perfect" suggests that ...
	"They dance"	Describing the pike as dancing, gives the impression that...
	"emerald"
	"immense"
	"gold"
However, the poet shows that they are also: ruthless killers	"Killers from the egg"
	"submarine"
	"fangs"
	"indeed they spare nobody"
	"I dared not cast"
	"watching upwards"

Try to vary the starts of your sentences when explaining what the quotations show.