Once you have sorted the chapter headings in an order, complete the following:

If you have read the novel, try to think of a one sentence summary of each chapter.

If you haven't read the novel, try to decide what you think the story is about. You might have an idea for the whole story or you might just think about some of the events that happen in each chapter. See if you can work out who the characters are in the novel and the role they might play.
