

What do the following colours
suggest to you?

Think in particular about the emotions you associate with the colours

white

brown

red

Insert first sentence of poem here:

I can remember you, child,

Turn at the traffic lights.

What does the poet mean?

Who is the poet talking to?

Insert first stanza of poem here:

I can remember you, child,

To be two, to be ourselves.

What is the main metaphor of the poem?

Insert second stanza of poem here:

Neither won nor lost the struggle

In the dark, for one more hour.

What has changed?

What has stayed the same?

Re-read the poem.

Identify the words which link the ideas of love and conflict.

Do you think this a positive or negative view of a relationship?

Why? What makes you think this?