

What do quotations tell us?

Look through the quotations below and decide who says it, when it happens, and what it shows us about the character:

What? Y'don't know what the Progress Class is? It's Mrs Kay's class. Y' go down there in the week if y' can't do sums or writing. If y' backward like.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

I'd just like you to be there and keep an eye on things. ... but I get the impression she sees education as one long game.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

Will we have t' get a boat?

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

You've got some real bright sparks here, Mrs Kay. A right bunch.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

Y'know them places on the telly. Where they have gardens an' trees outside an' that.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

Sir, sir, me mum says nodd'n about it but when me dad comes homes, she belts me.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

I only ever did it once, take a Liverpool coach load. I tell you not one word of a lie Miss Powell, they'd rob your eyes if you wasn't lookin'.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

It kills them cos they're cruel to it. They keep it in a pit so when it gets out it's bound to be mad an' wanna kill people. Don't you see?

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?

Teach them? Teach them what? You'll never teach them because nobody knows what to do with them. Ten years ago you could teach them to stand in a line, you could teach them to obey, to expect a little more than a lousy factory job. But now they haven't even got that to aim for. ... There's nothing for them to do, any of them; most of 'em were born for factory fodder, but the factories have closed down.

Who said it?

When

What does it show us about the character?