

Act 2 Scene 4
Who says it? What are they talking about?

By my troth, it is well said 'for himself to mar', quoth a! Gentlemen, can any of you tell me where I may find the young Romeo?

I can tell you, but young Romeo will be older when you have found him, than he was when you sought him. I am the youngest of that name, for fault of a worse.

Is your man secret? Did you ne'er hear say,
Two may keep counsel, putting one away?

I warrant thee my man's as true as steel.

I pray you sir, what saucy merchant was this was so full of his ropery?

A gentleman, Nurse, that loves to himself talk, and will speak more in a minute than he will stand to in a month.

.....And
thou must stand by to see and suffer every knave
to use me at his pleasure?

I saw no man use you at his pleasure. If I had,
my weapon should quickly have been out, I warrant you.

Nurse, commend me to thy lady and mistress. I,
protest unto thee -

Good heart, and i'faith, I will tell her as much.
Lord, Lord, she will be a joyful woman.

What wilt thou tell her, Nurse? Thou dost not mark me.

... Here is for thy pains.

No truly sir, not a penny.
