

ENGB1: Speed-dating

Your text is on the hunt for other eligible singles, so you need to get to know them as quickly as possible with the aim of leaving the room with lots of numbers in your pocket. In order to pick Mr Right, you need to be absolutely clear about your own linguistic vital statistics before you can start.

My name is Text....

As a start, you might like to consider these things about your own:

Purpose

Audience

Genre

Register/formality

Spoken

Written

Linguistic methods

You then have just three minutes with each of the eligible daters to find out whether or not you could be a match made in heaven.

Good luck ☺
